PREFACE

In the utilization of this research outline the following ~~points~~ should be noted

1. In initiating a request for the Commission on Local Government to review a proposed agreement defining annexation rights, local governments are guided principally by the Commission's Rules of Procedure, 1984 Edition. While those rules anticipate that the submission by the local governments will be fully responsive to relevant matters, the local governments are permitted to submit such data, exhibits, documents, or other supporting materials as they deem appropriate (Rules 3.11 and 3.13) Thus, local governments are afforded latitude in their collection and submission of data for the Commission's review.
2. The data required by this research outline will be derived from submissions presented by both of the affected localities.
3. While the initial submissions by the parties should be as comprehensive as possible, they are not required to address all of the data elements included in this research outline. Localities may submit supplemental filings "where such are deemed necessary or appropriate by the Commission for the provision of current and complete data." (Rule 3.28) Thus, supplemental filings may be utilized for the submission of data not available at the time of the initial filing.
4. The research outline was developed over the course of a number of years as a tool to assist the staff of the Commission on Local Government to evaluate proposed agreements defining town annexation rights. The elements contained therein are examples of data the Commission's staff has requested to be provided by parties initiating reviews of such agreements.
5. It is understood that capacity of a town to respond to any or all of the data elements in the research outline is directly related to a number of factors, such as the population of the locality, size of its municipal staff and budget, services offered to its citizens, etc.
5. The research outline is not intended to be all encompassing of every possible factor available for the evaluation of agreements defining annexation rights. Every agreement has unique aspects that cannot be captured in a standardized outline.
6. It is not required that towns respond to data elements in the outline that would be more appropriately addressed by the affected counties.
7. If you have any questions concerning the content of the research outline or the meaning of specific items, you are encouraged to contact the staff of the Commission on Local Government at 804-786-6508.
