Downtown Staunton Gift Card

Questions and Answers

Why did the SDDA decide to switch to a plastic Gift Card?

The Gift Cards are more competitive, as they are more attractive to customers because of their credit card size, durability, and gift envelope closure for giving. They are also recyclable and less expensive to produce.

Are these Downtown Gift Cards the same as what I can get at a mall or a bank?

No, they are different. They are only accepted at Downtown stores, like cash or checks. They do not have functioning a magnetic strip and cannot be “read” by a credit card reader.

What denominations are available for purchase?

Downtown Gift Cards come in denominations of $10, $20 and $50. They can always be packaged to give the customer a higher dollar value for giving.

When do Gift Cards expire?

One year from the date of purchase.

Is there an additional charge for the Gift Card?

No, there is no service fee on the Downtown Gift Card. They are sold at face value.

Where can I purchase Downtown Gift Cards?

You may purchase Gift Cards at the SDDA Office, located at 110 West Johnson Street on the second floor of the Stratton Building from 9AM to 5PM, Monday through Friday. You may also purchase Gift Cards at The Sacred Circle, Turtle Lane, Schmid’s Printery and Pufferbellies.

What if there isn’t an expiration sticker on the card?

Please contact the SDDA office.

May I redeem the Gift Card for cash or get a refund on my Gift Card purchase?

No, Gift Cards are not redeemable for cash or refundable.
